WORLD & CONTINENTAL INDOOR RECORDS

(As at January 31, 2010)

The best indoor performances on record – as agreed by the world's leading statisticians – were accepted as the inaugural IAAF World Indoor Records from January 1, 1987. Official indoor records are ratified by IAAF, EAA, and certain national federations. The “records” of other continental federations (and also World junior bests) should be regarded as the best statistically valid performances. Note that marks set on oversized tracks (OT) or by relay teams with mixed nationalities (§) are not accepted as records.

ABBREVIATIONS & KEY (See also page 7)

IAAF = IAAF World Indoor Record

W = World Best (unratified), AFR = Africa, ASI = Asia, C = Commonwealth; CAC = Central America & Caribbean,

EUR = Europe, NAM = North America, OCE = Oceania, SAM = South America,

WJ = World Junior; * = mark not yet ratified; # = mark not ratified/confirmed

Where relevant, the pace is given for world record performances. Where known, the time given is that of the runner who set the record, rather than the pacemaker

EVOLUTION OF WORLD INDOOR RECORDS

These lists show the evolution of World Indoor Best performances and – in bold – recognised IAAF World Records. The best indoor performances on record – as agreed by the world's leading statisticians – were accepted as the inaugural IAAF World Indoor Records from January 1, 1987. Marks superior to IAAF world records but unratified are listed separately. Note that hand times are shown only if better than the best automatic timing on record. At the time of printing, there have been no official new men's world indoor records since Kerron Clement's 44.57 400m in 2005. All records are as at January 31, 2010.

EVOLUTION OF WORLD INDOOR RECORDS

These lists show the evolution of World Indoor Best performances and – in bold – recognised IAAF World Records. The best indoor performances on record – as agreed by the world's leading statisticians – were accepted as the inaugural IAAF World Indoor Records from January 1, 1987. Marks superior to IAAF world records but unratified are listed separately. Note that hand times are shown only if better than the best automatic timing on record. Updates since the 2008 edition are denoted by a vertical bar (“|”) in the right margin. All records are as at January 31, 2010.

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARIES

Here are summarised biographies of more than 300 of the world's leading athletes – in alphabetical order – who are most likely to be leading contenders at the 2010 World Indoor Championships. The athletes's name, birthdate, country and principal events are shown along with their personal bests (in bold for key events), most significant achievements (international then domestic) and other data. The athlete's main achievement is summarised in the first lines after their name. Heights and weights are shown where most relevant. Marks set up to January 31, 2010 are included.
